GED Prep Program

Gaining a high school equivalency certificate opens new doors. It offers a chance to study at colleges and other schools or to get a better job. Studying for the GED (General Education Development) tests at Prince Edward Learning Centre means studying at your own pace and level. An individualized program with an experienced instructor increases your chances of success. If you are interested in getting an equivalent to grade 12 education, but wish to do it out of the regular school system, contact us for an appointment to start on a path to a brighter future.
